Italy, France at Odds Over Spanish War

IL DUCE SENDS NEW ARMY INTO AFRICAN COLONY

Lord Plymouth Summons Committee to Meet Saturday Morning

TROOP REMOVAL ASKED

Paris Expresses Anxiety Over Situation

ROME, Oct. 14—(UP)—Continued dispatch of fresh troops to Libya, Italy's strategic North African colony, strengthened an impression in military quarters today that Premier Mussolini is preparing for the possibility of an Italo-French conflict growing out of the Spanish crisis.

LONDON, Oct. 14—(UP)—The international non-intervention committee has been invited by Chairman Lord Plymouth to meet Saturday morning to consider the withdrawal of foreign volunteers from Spain, it was reported reliably today.

PARIS, Oct. 14—(UP)—Gravely anxious over Italy's activity in the Spanish civil war, the cabinet agreed today to participate in a discussion of the situation before the non-intervention committee but to insist on prompt action.

Time Limit Sought

It was understood that Foreign Minister Yvon Delbos, at the non-intervention meeting at London, would suggest a definite time limit by which Italy should agree to diminish her activity in the Balearic islands and to curtail her troop activity in Spain proper.

$15,000 DAMAGE SUIT SCHEDULED FOR COURT TRIAL

No jury cases will be heard in Common Pleas court this week and only one is scheduled for next week.

A suit on an account, scheduled for Friday, has been settled, court officials announced.

The $15,000 damage action of Anna Marie Weltrecht, of Columbus, against Homer Cromley, Walnut township, and Ira Merritt, a minor, is assigned for Monday. The plaintiff asks damages for injuries alleged to have been suffered in May, 1936 when an auto in which she was riding on the Jackson pike figured in a collision at the intersection of the Commercial Point road.

Due to Pumpkin Show opening next Wednesday, no cases have been set down for the balance of that week.

Praises Wedlock In Death Diary

STRANGE diary of death containing a plea for a better understanding of marriage gives police at Oakland, Cal., a motive for the suicide of Alvin King, 24, following the strangling of his 22-year-old wife, Margaret. King informed an Oakland paper he had slain his wife and would kill himself, but not before he wrote the notes "not for cheap publicity, but in the name of humanity and health and happiness of 100,000 people." Among King's pencilled words were these: "Who will deny me the right to say that when boy and girl love each other with all their being, and would rather have a smile from their mate than all other worldly goods, what is nasty to seek paradise with that loved one?" King disclosed that, in killing his wife, he smothered her so as not to mar her features.

Couple Seeking to Bury Child Without Embalming

SAN FRANCISCO, Oct. 14. — (UP) — Rebuffed at several cemeteries, a young father and mother were believed to be roaming the state in their small automobile today, carrying the body of their dead child and seeking a place where they might bury it their own way.

They wanted to dig the grave for their son, and bury him without embalming, which is forbidden by state law.

FAYETTE COUNTY MAY CLOSE ITS INFIRMARY DOORS

WASHINGTON C. H., Oct. 14 —Fayette county commissioners may close the county home within the next few months. Rumors are being circulated in courthouse circles that the closing would be under provisions of a recently enacted law permitting such action when the number of inmates of a home drops to a point where its operation is not economical.

It is reported also the closing would save the county considerable amount of money that would be available for relief purposes. The report of the latest current year shows the cost was $484.80 an inmate on a daily average of 32 patients.

The last report shows nine persons were eligible for pensions, three were insane, 11 were disabled by disease, and six were listed as feeble minded. The total cost of operating the home was $15,566.64 last year, and $19,756 the previous year.

CITY'S EMPLOYEES BUSY REMOVING PILED LEAVES

Employees of the city service department are hauling leaves this week in connection with a general cleanup campaign for the Pumpkin Show.

Persons who desire to rake their leaves are requested to pile the leaves near the street where they can be easily loaded on city trucks. Trucks and wagons will cover the city daily during the next few days.

Residents are not to pile leaves in the gutters.

Dalhover Faces Trial in Death Of Indiana Man

Survivor of Brady Gang Placed on Federal Plane for Western Journey; G-men Still Hunt Aides; Huge Arsenal Uncovered

BANGOR, Me., Oct. 14—(UP)—James Dalhover, 31, lone survivor and "trigger-man" of the Al Brady gang, left here by airplane at sun-up today, presumably for Indiana to stand trial for the murder of one of the three police officers slain by the gang.

The diminutive outlaw, manacled to two G-men, was spirited out of city jail, where he had been confined since his capture Tuesday, and taken by automobile to Bangor airport, nearly two miles distant.

PAUL TO JUDGE SADDLE CLASSES IN HORSE SHOW

J. Rankin Paul, of Columbus, one of Ohio's leading horsemen, will be the judge for the saddle horse events to be conducted at the high school athletic field during the Pumpkin Show.

Mr. Paul has been judging saddle horse shows in many parts of the nation in the last few years.

John O'Keefe, also of Columbus, will act as the ringmaster and handle the announcing. O'Keefe made a hit when he was in Circleville during last fall's show.

Persons seeking to enter the saddle horse competition should file their entries at the office of Paul E. Adkins, W. Main street, not later than Monday.

Last of Brady Gang Behind Bars

JAMES DALHOVER, sole survivor of the Al Brady gang, is pictured—handcuffed—behind bars at Bangor, Me., after confessing to participation in four murders committed by the gang. Dalhover, captured by G-men in Bangor when they shot to death Brady and Clarence Shaffer, was on his way to Indiana to answer charge of slaying State Patrolman Paul Minneman. Others Dalhover confessed the Brady gang killed were George Conn, Ohio state highway patrolman; Edward Lindsay, Piqua, Ohio, store clerk, and Richard Rivers, Indianapolis police sergeant. The lower photo shows the arsenal found in the Brady car in Bangor.

JURY IS NEARLY COMPLETED FOR MRS. HAHN TRIAL

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14—(UP)—Testimony is expected to begin today in the trial of Anna Marie Hahn, comely German matron, charged with the poison murder of Jacob Wagner, an elderly friend.

Eleven jurors—10 women and a man—were seated tentatively at a special session in Judge Charles S. Bell's court last night. Twelve had been chosen tentatively yesterday afternoon, but peremptory challenges eliminated one.

The state charged that Mrs. Hahn, mother of a 12-year-old son, poisoned Wagner after he had made her heirless to his estate. She also was named as a suspect in the mysterious deaths of 12 other elderly persons of her acquaintance.

FIRST SNOWFALL OF SEASON IS RECORDED

King Winter took his first hard punch at Pickaway county Thursday morning knocking the temperature down to 27 degrees with a heavy frost and a trace of snow.

The Thursday morning recording was a drop of 40 degrees from the highest temperature Wednesday afternoon, 67 degrees.

During the morning some snow, so light it left no trace on the streets, descended on Circleville.

The Columbus weather bureau predicts continued cloudy and cold weather for Thursday and possibly for several days. A high pressure area engulfing southern Canada and extending southward over the Ohio valley is blamed

School Boys Find Corpse In Roadway

Ontario Continues Hunt For Ghoul Who Sought $100 As Ransom

STREETSVILLE, Ont., Oct. 14 —(UP)—Hope of capturing the grave robber who "kidnaped" the body of 20-year-old Hayden Pope and demanded $100 ransom faded today with discovery of the corpse in a roadside ditch.

Police said the body, found by four boys returning from school, apparently had been thrown from an automobile.

Officers and villagers, however, continued their search for clues which might indicate the identity of the ghoul who took the body from a new grave Monday night and left a ransom note for the youth's parents in the empty coffin. The note, written in block letters by pencil, read:

"If you want your son back have $100 ready and we will write where to leave money when cops cool off."

PREACHER FACES MURDER CHARGES FOR TWO DEATHS

LEXINGTON, Ky., Oct. 14—(UP)—Rev. Miller O. Johnson, 47, interdenominational evangelist, was held by police on a murder charge today following the double slaying of his estranged wife, Mrs. Willie Johnson, 46, and William "Buster" Rue, 37.

Johnson surrendered an hour after the slaying in the Johnson home. Police quoted him as saying he returned home from a revival meeting at Ashland, Ky., and found Rue on a sofa embracing Mrs. Johnson.

"I believe in the unwritten law," he told police. "I was just trying to save my home."

Rue, an automobile salesman employed by a Georgetown, Ky., firm, was said by his relatives to have been a suitor of Johnson's daughter, Leila Mae, 23.

The Johnsons were separated last November, police were told. Shortly after that she had him arrested on a charge of threatening her. He was put under bond and ordered not to molest her.

Johnson was said to have gone to the home of friends after the shooting last night and to have told them:

"I just shot my wife and a man over at my house. I don't know whether they're dead or not. I'm going down to the police."

Police found the body of Rue on the threshold of the front doorway. The body of Mrs. Johnson was in the bedroom, fully clothed.

The Johnsons had four other children, Mary Elizabeth, 9; James Albert, 18; Ida Lee, 22, and Eugene, 26.

SAILOR, MARINE INJURED DURING HEAVY FIGHTING

Thousands Endangered As Warring Soldiers Battle Near Settlement

GUARDSMEN SHOCKED

Bomb Strikes Street Car, Killing 50 Persons

SHANGHAI, Oct. 14—(UP)—Japanese and Chinese, their fury breaking all bounds, fought a battle tonight that endangered hundreds of thousands of people—Americans, other foreigners and Chinese.

An American navy radioman and a United States marine were wounded during a day of terror that seemed nothing to the inferno of which the city was made tonight.

Wounds of both American fighting men were slight.

Radio Man Third Class J. P. McMichael, Connorsville, Ind., was wounded by Japanese shrapnel as he stood on the signal bridge of the U. S. cruiser Augusta between Admiral Harry E. Yarnell, commander in chief, and Capt. R. F. McConnell, chief of staff. McMichael was struck in the temple.

Marine's Arm Hurt

Private Milton O. Hiatt, Crystal River, Fla., of the 4th marines, was struck in the left arm near the shoulder by a .25 caliber rifle bullet at his post in the American defense lines on the northern boundary of the international settlement.

A Japanese airplane bomb that struck 50 yards from a United States marine outpost in the lines severely shocked the marines on duty by its concussion.

One of several other bombs that struck near the marine lines smashed a street car and killed 50 persons.

Toward dusk this fighting quieted. The sun went down and twilight was giving way to dusk.

Then exactly at 6 p. m. every Chinese gun in and around Shanghai opened up. It was firing on a scale unprecedented even in the international settlement and shrapnel came almost in a rain. More than a dozen shells burst in or over the U. S. marine lines as Japanese artillery opened in reply to the Chinese fire.

CATS MUST WEAR BELLS TO WARN VILLAGE RABBITS

FAIR LAWN, N. J., Oct. 14 —(UP)—The 6,000 residents of this town were indignant today because the borough council decided that all cats must wear a bell and all cat owners must pay a $1 license fee.

The bell-wearing edict was in the interests of rabbit preservation. A few weeks ago a cat killed two rabbits, and the council, after much debate, ruled that something must be done to warn the rabbits. The indictment against cats contained four other counts:

They ruin shrubbery. They howl at night. They rummage in garage pails. They breed too fast.

Can Worker Visits

A youngster name, Frank Martin was having his whiskers treated at "headquarters" yesterday while we were there to get the "low down" on everything from the President's speech to the election of township trustee with about a dozen in the race. Mr. Martin is an employee of the National Can Co., located at Baltimore, Maryland, and it is his job to keep the machines which fasten on the lids of the factory cans when they are filled and ready for sealing. He has several of these machines under his care and when one fails to properly function he must get it going in the shortest time possible.

He makes Mt. Sterling his central point from which place he can service quickly any machine he has in his care. He served a few years in the factory where these can-closing machines are made and is familiar with every working part. Said he thought today would finish the pumpkin canning here, but just where he would go next he had no idea. And he fits in the same class of "friendly road boys" we frequently meet and get a story from. Haven't met a "really tough one" yet, but we know there are such animals to be found and we can "take it" if occasion demands.

WASHINGTON NEWS

FROM OUR CONGRESSMAN
HAROLD K. CLAYPOOL

FARM INCOME—Though the increase in farm income was less than seasonal, income from farm marketings was $131,000,000 higher than a year earlier. The increased income as compared with a year earlier, was due entirely to the larger receipts from the sale of crops, as income from livestock and livestock products was slightly lower than in 1936. The principal crops contributing to the increased income were wheat, fruits, cotton and cottonseed, and tobacco.

UNFIT FOODS—Federal authorities were active during the Summer rounding up food products carelessly packed and handled, according to the Food and Drug Administration. Seizures of perishable articles increased in number, while canned, dried and other processed foods continued to demand careful attention.

MORTGAGES—Out of $700,000,000 in mortgages on which insurance premiums are being paid to the Federal Housing Administration net losses sustained over a three-year period amount to $7,921.18—approximately one thousandth of one percent. Of a total of 229,299 mortgages accepted for insurance only 35 properties have been foreclosed.

ELECTRICITY—Production of electricity for public use in the United States reached a total of 118,499,000,000 kilowatt hours in the 12-month period just ended, making a new high record. This is a 10 percent increase over last year.

N. L. R. B. — 7,601 cases have been handled by the National Labor Relations Board during the 23 months since it began active operation in the Fall of 1935. This figure includes action on charges of unfair labor practices and petitions for elections received by the Board and its 21 Regional Offices. 2,249,771 workers were involved.

FARM ACCIDENTS — Far more attention has been given to accident prevention in industry than on the farm and in the home although farm and home accidents outnumber all others. More persons are accidentally killed at work in agricultural pursuits than in any other occupation. In 1936 fatal work accidents in agriculture numbered 4500, compared with only 2800 in construction activities and 2300 in manufacturing. I believe there is urgent need for the adoption and application in the rural districts of those safety measures which have proven their value in the urban and industrial centers.

COAL HEARINGS — With the most complete statistical and trade survey perhaps ever assembled on any industry before it, the National Bituminous Coal Commission have begun the series of hearings to set the long awaited minimum prices for bituminous coal required under the Guffey-Vinson Act. While it has been impossible to make any conclusive analysis of the price schedules filed by producers' boards, there are many indications to the effect that no general increase in the retail prices of household coal can be based upon any action the Commission may take. Household coal constitutes but 20 percent of the total consumption and has long been on a price basis above the cost of production, largely because the household demand comes in the winter when prices are firm.

AMERICAN SHIPPING — To meet the imperative need of American shipping for new and faster cargo vessels, the United States Maritime Commission has brought out a preliminary design of a low-cost, economical steel cargo vessel for ocean transportation, capable of a speed of 15½ knots, which will make it nearly 50 percent faster than the majority of American flag ships of this type now engaged in foreign commerce. This design represents the first of the standardized plans which the Commission is now developing for several types of ocean-going vessels in the Commission's program for rehabilitation of the American flag merchant fleet.

FOREST FIRES — Nearly a quarter of a million forest fires occurred in the United States during the drought year 1936 and caused damage estimated at $54,000,000. 90 percent of all acreage burned was on unprotected forest areas and nearly one-fifth of all unprotected forest land was burned over. The 141,432 fires on unprotected lands last year burned 38,990,000 acres of forest cover causing damage estimated at slightly more than $40,000,000.

Slicers Reported

George C. Barnes and Carl C. Leist, executors of the estate of George W. Limebaugh, were named defendants in a $10,000 damage action filed in common pleas court Wednesday by Walton G. Grant, 2154 Dresden avenue, Columbus.

The petition says that the plaintiff invented a meat slicing machine in 1927 and during the lifetime of Mr. Limebaugh the two entered into negotiations to manufacture and sell the machines. Grant says that in 1928 an oral partnership agreement was made and a patent for the machine was obtained in the joint names of Grant and Limebaugh.

Mr. Grant's petition declares that it was agreed that he was to furnish the idea and supervise the construction of the machines and Mr. Limebaugh was to furnish money to manufacture and market them. The profits were to be divided equally.

Grant claims that five machines were constructed and in 1932 Mr. Limebaugh informed him that he intended to do nothing further in the matter. Mr. Grant asks damages for an alleged breach of contract.

Ohio Judge Has Court
For Attacker in Park

NEW PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 14—(UP)—Vandy Lee Matheus, 19-year-old negro accused of attacking Mr. and Mrs. Forrest Lantzer on Oct. 3, today was under sentence of 3 to 30 years and 1 to 20 years in Ohio penitentiary.

Matheus was sentenced late yesterday by Common Pleas Judge E. E. Lindsay, who held court in a picnic grove, 12 miles north of here. Fearing mob action by persons who earlier had stormed four jails in Tuscarawas and Harrison counties, Judge Lindsay ordered the arraignment at the county line.

Matheus immediately was taken to Columbus to enter the penitentiary. He had been held in the Cuyahoga county jail at Cleveland since the mobs searched the jails for him. He was taken secretly to the Stark-Tuscarawas county line by a special deputy sheriff yesterday.

Huddled between the back seat and the back of the front seat of a sedan, he was taken to a gasoline station and picnic grounds called "Shady Rest." There, with a roofed picnic table for a bench, bar and clerk's desk, the arraignment was held.

Deputy Clerk of Courts Marvin R. Miller read the indictments and Matheus pleaded guilty in the presence of Prosecutor Ralph Finley, the special deputy and newspaper reporters. Judge Lindsay passed sentence and within 10 minutes Matheus was back in the car and on his way to Columbus.

Matheus was charged with attacking Forrest Lantzer, 30, and his wife, Elsie, 27, as they walked along South Wooster avenue at 2 a. m., returning home from a party. He was alleged to have fired one shot from a shotgun over Lantzer's head and then to have beat him unconscious with the butt of the gun. After Lantzer fell, Matheus confessed he dragged Mrs. Lantzer into a cornfield and criminally assaulted her.

U. S. DEDICATES LAND PROJECT WITH EXERCISES

Many Officials, Others to Gather in Ross-Hocking Camp, Saturday

ROUTE 327 TO BE USED

Arrangement Made For Capacity Crowd

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 14.—Jack Frost is doing his part and, if the Weather Man cooperation, everything will be set for a great day in Ross county Oct. 16 when Camp Ross-Hocking, 20 miles Northeast of here and Ohio's first publicly-owned group camp will be dedicated by the U. S. Department of Agriculture.

Harold A. Cattell, manager here for the 14,000-acre Ross-Hocking land use project of which the camp is a part, said today that all arrangements had been completed to accommodate a record crowd.

Day Begins At 9:30

The affair will be a combination project tour and dedication. Beginning at 9:30 a. m., tours will be conducted over the project until 11:30. While no public transportation will be furnished, it is planned to have visitors' cars collected in groups of five to eight with a project official in each leading car acting as guide.

Consisting of submarginal farm land, the project has been developed for such uses as reforestation, game preservation, erosion control and water conservation. Following the improved roads over the area, visitors will be able to make first hand inspection of forest stand improvement, game shelters, check dams and newly established timber stands.

One development is the 18-acre lake. The group camp adjoins this lake on one side. A public picnic area, complete with shelter houses, tables and furnaces, is located within easy access.

Since the actual dedication ceremony does not begin until 1:30, visitors will have plenty of time after 11:30 to eat lunch. A lunch stand will be set up to furnish food at a nominal cost to those who prefer not to bring their own.

Many Buildings There

Camp Ross-Hocking consists of overnight cabins, combination dining and recreation hall, cooks' quarters, infirmary and sewage disposal and water supply systems. It will accommodate 150 persons and is intended to enable such organized groups as 4-H clubs, Boy Scouts or Sunday School federations to hold conferences and conclaves in pleasant, scenic surroundings. It is located in Tar Hollow, once a rendezvous for illicit liquor distilling.

The camp will be administered by the Ohio Division of Forestry, a part of Ohio State University's agricultural experiment station. The dedication really constitutes a formal opening of the camp and turning over of administration to the Forestry Division.

Dr. L. C. Gray, Assistant chief of the Farm Security Administration in Washington, will represent the U. S. D. A. in dedicating the camp to the Division. Response will be made by Edmond Secrest, director of the Agricultural Experiment Station at Wooster. Others expected to take part in the program include H. C. Ramsower, director of the Agricultural Extension Service at the University and an early exponent of such a camp, and several other public officials.

Ceremonies will be started by raising of the flag. A 4-H club band from Athens county will play the National Anthem.

Signs To Be Posted

Best approach to the camp can be made from State Highway 327 at a point about 10 miles north of Londonderry or six miles south of Adelphi. Cattell said that prominent signs would be posted on 327 to guide visitors to the camp area.

ELECTION HELD TODAY

Efforts to Combat C. I. O.
Given Attention

DENVER, Colo., Oct. 14—(UP)—The American Federation of Labor today planned an organization drive among the housewives, who control the nation's purchasing power, as a means of developing a new union weapon.

This organized mass purchasing power would be used first to enforce a boycott on Japanese and German goods, and eventually would be directed against all manufactured imports, according to the plan of I. N. Ornburn, secretary of the union labels department of the A. F. of L.

End Is Nearing
This campaign, supplementing the Federation's drive against the rival Committee for Industrial Organization, developed as the 57th annual A. F. of L. convention approached and probably this afternoon, after the re-election of President William Green and other officers for 1938.

Elections were the outstanding business of the day.

Ornburn predicted that 20,000-600 citizens soon would participate in the federation's boycotts, beginning with the "Aggressor nations".

"If there is mass production, there must be organized mass purchasing," he said. "The first step will be to put the local A. F. of L. women's auxiliaries on a permanent national basis. Present plans are to call a national convention in Cincinnati next April."

"We want to stop purchases of all imported and all non-union goods."

The final hours of the convention crystallized the efforts of the federation to put new power into its national organization in order to win its fight with the rival John L. Lewis unions for leadership of America's working men. William Hutchison, head of the great carpenters' union and a relentless foe of the C. I. O., may be elected to the executive council from which he resigned in 1936.

The convention approved the leaders' outline of objectives with cheers. The program provided:

1. A fight-to-the-finish to end the alleged favoritism of the National Labor Relations board toward the C. I. O. Secretary John P. Frey of the resolutions committee predicted a congressional investigation without delay if President Roosevelt failed to heed the convention's demand for a house cleaning of the N.L.R.B. setup, including removal of Board Member Edwin Smith and four regional directors. Congress was asked to amend the labor act to improve the position of the dominant A. F. of L. craft unions.

2. Plans to attack the Lewis unions on the Pacific coast. Strategy for an attempt to regain control of the maritime unions seized by C. I. O. Director Harry Bridges, will be worked out by the executive council immediately.

Rank and File Sought
3. An effort to win back the rank-and-file of the rebel unions and to destroy their leaders. But the council was given power to expel any insurgent union if necessary, and it was expected that a decision would be made immediately after the convention on proposals that the United Mine Workers and the Amalgamated Clothing Workers be ousted now.

4. Dispatch of Joseph Ozanic, president of the newly chartered Progressive Miners, to Charleston, W. Va., to "stamp out the plague of the C. I. O." in that state. Rival unions have been chartered or will be in most of the fields.

FARMERS FAVOR STABILIZATION UNDER U.S. PLAN

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14—Continuation of the Ohio farmers' desire for governmental help in achieving the stabilization of agriculture is proved by the number participating in the 1937 agricultural conservation program, according to Elmer F. Kruse, Columbus, chairman, state committee.

On October 6, owners and operators of Ohio farms had made application for the inspection of 105,266 farms to determine if they were eligible for payments under the federal program. In 1936, on the same date, only 80,000 such applications for inspection had been made.

The total number of applications in 1937 will be in excess of last year's figures. The final date for filing applications for inspection of farms with the county committees is October 31.

Another indication of the Ohio farmers' belief in federal agricultural program pointed out by Mr. Kruse, was the majority of votes in this state in favor of federal supervision of the marketing of the 1937 potato crop. Although Ohio is not much interested in potatoes as a crop, growers in the state voted 257 to 147 in favor of the federal program to keep culls and low grade potatoes off the market this year.

More eastern Ohio farmers are participating in the 1937 agricultural adjustment program than did last year. Mr. Kruse believes this is due to a better acquaintance with the plan and a new determination to improve farm lands that have been depleted by previous methods of farm management.

occupied by the rebel organizations, including automobile, rubber and other industries.

5. Organization of the federation's political strength to punish any political leader who indicates favoritism for the C. I. O.

Two declarations furnished impetus to the A. F. of L. Campaign.

GIFT OF PENNY UPSETS LEDGER OF AUSTRALIA

CANBERRA (UP) — Prime Minister J. L. Lyons of Australia recently received a letter enclosing a one-penny stamp from a man who described himself as "a patriotic Australian."

The patriot had read an announcement that the national debt of Australia was 1,252,911,646 pounds and one penny. He sent the penny to "reduce the debt to a round figure."

Premier Lyons replied, expressing his thanks, but a checkup revealed Australia lost two pence on the transaction.

The gift was more than offset by the cost of the stamp on the official letter enclosing the receipt and by the cost of a telephone call from the Prime Minister's office to the Treasury to arrange for the disposal of the penny.

Deliberations between the two departments revealed that the debt structure of the Commonwealth is not sufficiently flexible to receive one penny. Also it could not square the debt into round figures because the interest accrues daily. So the penny was paid into the petty cash account of the prime Minister's Department which, it is said, could be called misappropriation of funds.

Today's Recipes

APPLE TURNOVERS — For Filling: Blend one cup of sugar and two tablespoons of flour. Pare, core and slice five apples. Lay two tablespoons of the sliced apples on one half of five-inch

Wet edges of pastry with cold water and fold over apples to form a triangle; press edges together lightly, prick with fork in two or three places and bake in hot oven (400 degrees F.) for 15 minutes.

Sprinkle the top with bread crumbs and grated cheese and dot with bits of butter. Brown in broiler oven.

CRISPY SALAD—

One cup seedless raisins, two-thirds cup chopped celery, one-half cup chopped green sweet pepper, one cup diced apples, one-fourth cup chopped sweet cucumber pickle, one-fourth teaspoon salt, one-fourth cup chopped pimiento, mayonnaise, lettuce. Rinse raisins in hot water, drain, and cool. Combine with celery, green pepper, apples, sweet pickle, salt and pimiento. Toss together with sufficient mayonnaise to blend. Serve on lettuce garnished salad plates. Serves four.

Mix together sugar, salt and cinnamon. Combine with sliced peeled apples (choose firm rosy McIntosh apples) and bananas. Brown the bread cubes in butter. Fill buttered baking dish with alternate layers of bread cubes and fruit, using the bread for top and bottom layers. Cover dish and bake in moderate oven (375 degrees F.) for 30 minutes. Remove cover and make about 15 minutes longer or until apples are tender. Six servings.

COUSIN MARTHA'S MOLASSES MOONS—

Three-fourths cup melted fat, one cup pure New Orleans molasses, one cup brown sugar, one cup thick sour milk, one tablespoon lemon extract, six cups pastry flour, one-half teaspoon salt, two teaspoons ginger, four teaspoons soda. Mix the melted fat, molasses and sugar until smooth. Add the sour milk, then the flour sifted with the salt, ginger and soda. Add the lemon extract. Mix to a smooth stiff dough and chill until firm. Roll out on a floured surface to a thickness of one-third inch. Cut into crescents. Place on a greased baking sheet and bake in a moderate oven (350 degrees F.) eight to ten minutes. These may

Mayor Ridicules Express Highway As $3,000,000 Roller Coaster" But It Cuts St. Louis' Death Rate

St. Louis' new $3,000,000 express highway and one of the roller coaster curves to which Mayor Dickmann objects.

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 14—The $3,000,000 roller coaster!

That's what Mayor Bernard Dickmann calls St. Louis' new express highway.

But the public at large is taking to the highway in a more kindly fashion.

St. Louis, which is one of the slow big cities in the country that is decreasing its automobile fatalities, has found the new highway a decided convenience.

Unlike New York's express highways, St. Louis' is of the subway instead of the elevated type. No need to stop.

Three miles long, there isn't a single cross street intersection or traffic signal on the entire stretch.

Two miles of the highway was opened to the public more than a year ago, the third and last mile having been recently completed. At night the highway is lighted by sodium vapor lights which make it unnecessary for motorists to use anything but dim lights. Bright lights are forbidden, in fact.

Although the speed limit on the road has been held down to 30 miles, experiments have been made that will probably result in the city council raising the limit to 45 miles an hour—at least over most of the road.

Under the 30-mile limit — by actual test—motorists save between 10 and 15 minutes each way in both the morning and evening traffic rushes.

Tourists Like It

This time saving factor, coupled with no red lights and no intersections, has made the highway popular with city residents, especially those living in the suburbs. Also tourists find the road a big asset in getting through St. Louis in their cross country travels.

On parallel routes, motorists would encounter five traffic signals, two crossing policemen and eight boulevard stops and scores of street intersections. As to the roller coaster charges of Mayor Dickmann, the highway does resemble a roller coaster here and there. Between 25 and 40 feet below the regular street level, the highway has several curves and high concrete embankments on each side which tend to make motorists shy away from the outside lanes. The five-lane highway, however, is finely engineered and the driving sensation is exhilarating. This leads the motorist to step on it.

Horns Echo

Also the temptation to blow the horn is hard to resist. The city fathers may have to enact an antihorn ordinance.

bankments cause the horn to reverberate and echo in a peculiar "hollerin' down a rain barrel" and so the city fathers may have to enact an antihorn ordinance.

But the highway, despite many objections, is proving popular with St. Louis motorists and others of a similar nature may be built in other sections of the city.

THEATRES

AT THE CLIFTONA

Don Terry, the screen's new fist-throwing hero, again proves himself a coming big-time star by a vital performance. Columbia's "A Dangerous Adventure," which opens today on a double feature program with "The Frame Up," at the Cliftona theatre. Aided and abetted by the charming, talented Rosalind Keith, Terry does much to turn the picture into a vigorous and highly exciting experience.

Action clings fiercely across the screen in this story of steel mills, steel workers and steel hearts. Tim Sawyer (Terry) is boss of the Gale steel mill, which on the death of Gale has just come into the hands of the magnate's young daughter. Spencer Allen, general manager, is endeavoring to undermine the mill sufficiently to force Linda Gale to sell out at a low price.

Tim is bending every effort to fulfill an important contract when Linda arrives on the scene. She refuses to listen to his plea for new furnaces, preferring to trust the judgment of Allen, her secret enemy. After a social battle with Linda and her smooty friends, Tim quits the mill. Allen, elated, proceeds more swiftly with his plans.

AT THE GRAND

Filling with an austere dignity the impressive role of Richelieu in the New World Picture, released by Twentieth Century-Fox, of the swashbuckling days of France during the Huguenot rebellion, Raymond Massey is featured in the cast of "Under the Red Robe," at the Grand Theatre. With Conrad Veidt and Annabella starred, the cast also includes Sophie Stewart, Romney Brent and Lawrence Grant.

OHIO 1937 FARM INCOME IS BEST IN EIGHT YEARS

All Crops Beyond Stage Where Weather May Do Any Damage

CORN YIELD GREATER

Man of Soil Receiving More Cash Return

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14—With almost all crops beyond the stage where yields will be affected by adverse weather conditions, Ohio farmers are finishing a season of bountiful harvests that promise to bring an income higher than for any year since 1929, according to Professor V. R. Wertz, department of rural economics, Ohio State University.

The position of Ohio farmers is relatively better than the average for farm owners in the United States. The 1937 Ohio farm purchasing power will stand at 116 as compared with 103 for farmers of the entire nation. Professor Wertz says the purchasing power is estimated by considering the prices farmers receive and the prices they have to pay for supplies as compared with the same two factors in the period 1924 to 1929.

16 Units More
Ohio farmers will be able to buy 116 units this year from their income when they would have been able to buy only 100 similar units in the base period 1924-29. Professor Wertz points out that this figure 116 is the average for the state and does not necessarily apply to each individual farmer.

Income from certain agricultural enterprises will be comparatively higher this year than from others. Ohio farmers who devote a major share of their time and attention to meat animals have found their income increasing faster than have the dairy men of the state. Corn growers will produce a crop much larger than last year's but the present Ohio crop of sugar beets is considerably below that for 1936.

The only other Ohio crop which will yield less than last year's harvest is oats. The 1937 Ohio crops of tobacco, barley, and buckwheat are below the average production for the years 1928-32 but exceed last year's crop. Barley and oat acreages in the state have been sharply reduced in the past few years.

Soybeans are still gaining in favor in this state, with a crop of 2,538,000 bushels estimated for 1937. This is a 21 percent increase from last year and is five times greater than the average for the period 1928-32. All 1937 Ohio fruit-tree crops are much better than for 1936.

There has been a growing inclination among city people to criticize food prices, but Professor Wertz says those making complaints are comparing present prices with those of the years when farmers were being forced off the land by foreclosures. The university economist asks that present prices be compared with those of the years 1926-30 to secure a better picture of conditions.

Farm Prices Higher
The farm prices in Ohio on August 1, 1937, was higher for eight out of 17 important farm products than the 1926-30 average prices on August 1. The products which sold for more money on that date this year were wool, hogs, beef cattle, veal calves, lambs, chickens, milk cows, and horses. Products which sold for less money this year were eggs, butterfat, hay, potatoes, barley and oats. Butterfat, corn and wheat were the same price this year on August 1 that they were on the same date for the period 1926-30.

Rural economists at the university estimate the total 1937 Ohio farm income at $343,000,000, which is more than twice the amount of money farmers of the state received in 1932. The purchasing power of the Ohio farmer that year was 67 compared with 116 for 1937.

The vogue for skunk in the short, boxy jackets is increasing daily. They are very practical and durable.

"TOMORROW-TOWN"

THE American people are very much interested in modern housing and modern community ideas. It has been shown in the Chicago exposition and various others, and so there is not any doubt that New York will find "Tomorrow-Town" an appealing part of its 1939 fair.

The novelty of this plan is that it seems to be intended as a modern village within a modern city—a neighborhood which has the character of a self-sufficient village of the old New England type, with all the modern improvements. There will be three or four dozen homes, with stores to serve them, a community arts center, a nursery school and playground. Houses will be suited to a wide range of family size and income, suited to the working man and also to the white collar worker. They will stand on dead-end streets, with small parks at the end and plenty of space. Heating, lighting, insulation and so on will be up to date.

The basic idea seems more important than any of the details. If it is possible to create real community centers within the cities, where people can live quietly and sociably, among agreeable neighbors who all know each other, it will be a wonderful thing for the cities where people have to congregate in large numbers to make a living.

MOTOR BIKES FOR KIDS

A surprise was sprung in a small town the other day by a petition signed by several dozen citizens, and offered to the city council asking that children over 14 be allowed to operate motor-driven bicycles and scooters on the streets. Some of the children were already doing so without permission, although the local law forbids such procedure under 18.

It is probably a safe guess that if those indulgent citizens had their request granted, the juvenile fatality record in that community would soon rise. Surely there are enough accidents already, from falls and collisions with ordinary bicycles, without adding the perils of bikes scooting through street traffic under their own power and whirling around corners at 30 miles an hour.

There is legitimate use for this form of locomotion, but it is better to restrict it to boys and girls old and experienced enough to drive automobiles.

The trouble about another special session of Congress is that whenever congressmen get together, they want to spend money.

Nobody has to name the peace-breaking nations. They do it themselves, when they holler so about general criticism of peace-breakers.

World At A Glance

Japan's government is in a bad pickle. It has bitten off more than it can chew. Yet, in a way, it had to attempt the mouthful. Disapprove of their behavior as one may, the fact remains that the mikado's subjects are so increasingly numerous that they have got to have more room or begin falling off their islands.

And no additional room is available unless they take it away from someone else, if possible.

So that was the policy which their government adopted.

BITING OFF TOO MUCH?

Now, as previously remarked, the mouthful is proving to be exceedingly difficult, to say the least, for the islanders properly to masticate.

For one thing, the modern Chinese have turned out to be unexpectedly hard to lick. Had the Japanese succeeded in assimilating their morsel at one quick swallow, all would have been well, from their standpoint.

But they did not thus succeed. It is evident that they must chew and chew and chew. And

JUSTICES CORDIAL TO BLACK

WASHINGTON—The "Eight Old Men" of the Supreme Court are going out of their way to show the utmost personal cordiality toward the "New Young Man."

Not only are they leaning over backward to make him feel welcome, but their wives are extending themselves to be gracious to Mrs. Black. They have exchanged neighborly calls, and in other tactful ways have conveyed their goodwill and friendship.

While all the veterans of the bench have taken special pains to be nice to Black, the Catholic Justice Butler, the Jewish Brandeis and Cardozo, and McReynolds, hard-bitten anti-New Dealer, have been particularly courteous.

At their first meeting in the robing room, Butler made a friendly suggestion to Black about the fit of his judicial gown. Cardozo gave Black a fatherly pat on the back; Brandeis shook his hand warmly and inquired about Mrs. Black and their youngest son, who was ill last spring. Justice McReynolds was equally affable.

When Justice Cardozo took his seat on the Court, McReynolds, noisily read a newspaper. For several years thereafter he addressed Cardozo only in transaction of official business. But this time the Tennessean was the acme of courtesy. He told Black he was happy to have a fellow-Southerner as a colleague, spoke of mutual friends.

HUGHES' WORK

Court insiders give Chief Justice Hughes principal credit for the warmth of Black's reception. They say Hughes personally contacted each of the Justices and discreetly suggested that no hint of personal or partisan hostility be displayed toward Black.

Friends of the Chief Justice say he resents deeply the fusillades against his new colleague, for the same reason he opposed the President's court bill. Hughes considers them attacks on the dignity and integrity of the Supreme Court. To express his disapproval he is being especially cordial to Black.

Had Hughes the appointing power it is a safe conjecture that the Alabama still would be in the Senate. But since Black has been appointed, confirmed, and has taken the oath of office, Hughes holds that mud-slinging at him cannot but help reflect against the standing of the court.

GASTON B. MEANS

Gaston B. Means, mystery man of the Harding scandals and now serving time for enuchering Mrs. Evelyn Walsh McLean out of $100,000 in connection with the Lindbergh kidnaping, is not expected to live much longer.

He is suffering from acute kidney trouble and probable cancer. Federal prison authorities have tried to persuade him to permit an operation but he refuses.

NOTE—Means got his start falling out of upper berths, then suing the railroad company for damages. He was so successful at it that the insurance companies eventually hired him to detect this racket on the part of others.

People nowadays are really more interested in losing money than saving it. Look how they gamble.

Should Football Be Banned From Schools?

By LOGAN CLENDENING, M. D.
BY THIS TIME many parents have learned that the summer season and summer athletics are pleasant and healthy compared to the autumn game that we play in America—football.

I personally believe that American football should be prohibited from all secondary schools. Certainly boys whose bones have not yet formed—that is, boys under the age of 14—should not be allowed to play it under any circumstances. No high school or secondary school of any kind should allow football unless provision is made for adequate medical attendance at all practices, as well as at all regular games, and also unless the school can afford adequate equipment to protect the players.

About the only excuse for football is that for colleges it creates a good revenue for the athletic association. On the pleasant fall days the old grads like to come out to the football games and the football team, therefore, makes more money than any other single form of college athletics. For this reason, colleges can afford to give their players adequate protection and adequate medical service.

Player Armored
I notice in a picture magazine that it is estimated that at Ohio State university, the player has to have $80 worth of pads and protective devices, in order to make his playing reasonably safe. In this magazine's own words, he has to have "a veritable armor to keep him from breaking himself to pieces." How many high schools can afford this kind of equipment? Is it not true, then, that the equipment is neglected and high school players are subject to consequent dangers?

It would seem so, because it was found by the Wisconsin Inter-scholastic Athletic association that the number of injuries in high school football was 90 per 1,000 of players. By instituting a campaign for protection of high school football players, this was reduced in Wisconsin to 32 per 1,000. The improvement occurred on account of attention to the following factors:

Training coaches and officials to remove promptly from the game any boy injured.

Insistence on adequate physical examination before a boy is allowed to play football.

Insistence on having a physician available at regular practices and games, since immediate and trained care is essential.

Insistence that the school provide proper equipment for the protection of the players.

Even when all this is done, football is still a dangerous and boring game. Soccer football is a far better game to watch, a far better game to play, gives more exercise and is more healthy than American football under any conditions.

CHAPTER 27

IT STARTED one morning early in November. It had been a particularly trying morning. There were certain patients whom Tim had come to regard as his particular bêtes noires, and on this day he had been afflicted with no fewer than three of them.

There was Miss Simmons, a shrinking creature whose mind, never too strong, and always a ready victim to all forms of popular suggestion, was so wrought upon by the mere prospect of a visit to the dentist that by the time she was helped, half collapsing, into the chair, it was next to impossible to do anything with her.

In particular she had a terror of the drill, and her recoillings, groans, and agonized expressions when Tim was using it, even if he was nowhere near a nerve, held up his work and were a constant source of irritation. He would like to have shaken her, but his tradition of patience was strong. . . .

"Now try and stick it a little longer this time, Miss Simmons. It won't really hurt, and it'll be over all the sooner. . . . The job, which should have taken less than 20 minutes, lasted a full three-quarters of an hour.

She was followed by an equally liberal spendthrift of time. Grasswater, the stockbroker. Grasswater had no fear of the dentist's chair, indeed, he nearly always forgot where he was in his eagerness to hold forth on something or other he had read in the newspaper that morning. Instrument in hand, Tim was warned off by the huge index finger with which Grasswater rammed home the point of his harangue. At last he succeeded in shutting the man up by stuffing an excessive amount of cotton wadding into his mouth, but by the time he had finished with him he was nearly an hour behind schedule.

Then there was the Methodist pastor, Dr. Gorringer, for whom he had provided a plate of three uppers teeth after a cycling accident a few months ago. Dr. Gorringer, a nervous and fidgety person, simply could not get used to his plate. Generally it was too loose, in which case he came to Tim to get it tightened. Then he would fiddle about with it until it was loose again, and he would be back in a week. Last time Tim had given him good measure in the hope of stopping the nonsense, and the minister's complaint now was that it was too tight; he had great difficulty in getting it out in the evenings and in the mornings.

Tim tinkered with it a bit. "That's perfect, Mr. Kennedy," said Dr. Gorringer at last. "I'm sure it will be all right this time." He always said that.

Least came a normal patient, but a rather difficult case, requiring bridging and crowning, and likely to take a full hour. As it was already past his usual hour for lunch, Tim was not in the best of humor as he tackled the operation. He had hardly begun it before he realized he was out of the mixture he used as a mouth wash. He rang the bell for Adams, intending to send him round to the chemist, but there was no response, even when he went out into the hall and called. Eventually he telephoned the chemist (whose boy proved to be out) and made do with lysol. It was well after 2 when he finished, and as he had another appointment at half past 2 he lost his lunch, and had to be satisfied with a snack at the William and Mary.

When he got back Adams had also returned. "What happened to you, Adams?" he asked, quite amiably. "I wanted you just after 1, but you weren't about."

"I went to lunch," said Adams. "I didn't think you'd want me once you'd started with Mrs. Braithwaite."

"Well, you might have asked me," Tim went on into his surgery, a little puzzled. It was not at all like Adams to go off like that without a word. Perhaps, under the circumstances, being behind his time, he should have told Adams he could go.

But taking French leave was a different matter. And there had been something disagreeable about the man's tone. Not definitely rude, but lacking in his usual rather servile respectfulness. Tim recalled he had not addressed him as "Sir"—and Adams was generally lavish with his "Sirs". No doubt he was out of sorts.

Tim forgot about it, but the incident was recalled to his mind a few days later. He was sitting in the living room after dinner one evening, playing solitaire, when he heard a sudden scuffle and a bump in the passage which led to the kitchen and domestic offices. It was followed by a burst of laughter—Adams' sniggering laugh and an affected whinny, which he recognized as coming from the housemaid. Then a slammed door, and silence. . . .

Tim went out into the corridor, feeling rather like a schoolmaster, but there was no further disturbance. This was a relief to him, for he had no idea how to cope with domestic insubordination. The wheels had always run too smoothly. . . . He wondered if he had, in the past, given sufficient credit to Esther's unclouded tact and friendliness as the principal factor in the pleasant relationship with the servants which had always obtained at The Wilderness.

There had never been any friction, he had never been called on to exercise his authority as master of the house, and now he hardly knew how to administer a rebuke without appearing to make too heavy weather of the matter. . . . Nevertheless, he recollected that he had once been Adams' superior officer, and failure to speak a word in season would be prejudicial to his dignity. . . .

When Adams brought him his usual bowl of chocolate about an hour later, he said, without looking up from his cards: "Having a bit of a lark just now, weren't you, Adams?"

Adams put on a look of surprise. "Lark, sir? . . . Oh, yes, we were having some fun in the kitchen just now. You've no objection, sir, I suppose?"

"No objection at all, Adams," Tim spoke very smoothly. "Provided you keep it to the kitchen and don't make too much row. . . . But you were in the corridor, and you were making quite a lot of row, weren't you?"

"Oh, that was only for a moment."

"That makes no difference. And if there'd been a visitor here," Adams put down the tray. "Anything further tonight, sir?"

Tim was so unused to impertinence from Adams—or indeed from anyone—that he could hardly believe he was receiving it now. . . . He tried a little sarcasm. "No, nothing more. . . . No offense, I hope, Adams?"

"Oh, no, sir. We understand each other."

Do we though? thought Tim, as he stripped the cards off the sequences and built up the packs of suits at the side. Hanged if it do, in this new mood of yours. It's as if a dog who's fawned on you for a dozen years were to suddenly turn round and bite you. . . . You'll have to mend your manners, my friend. Or you'll have to go.

He snapped on the last king, finished his chocolate, and went to bed, a little upset but not seriously concerned. For the next few days Adams' behavior was exemplary, but Tim had a curious feeling that it was only so on surffance; that it only needed the slightest word of complaint, the least breath of criticism, to introduce a very different atmosphere.

ON HIS BLINDNESS
When I consider how my light is spent
Ere half my days in this dark world and wide.
And that one talent, which is death
to hide,
Lodged with me useless, though
my soul more bent
To serve therewith my Maker, and present
My true account, lest He returning chide;
"Doth God exact day-labor, light denied?"
I fondly ask. But Patience, to prevent
That Murrin, soon replies, "God doth not need
Either man's work or his own gifts; who best
Bear his mild yoke, they serve him best; his state
Is kingly; thousands a this bidding
speed,
And post o'er land and ocean with out rest;
They also serve who only stand and wait!"

A large muff of the same fur is lined with satin and corded around each end. The low neck line of the coat is filled in by a soft flat ascot scarf of the fur. The hat Mary is wearing is a wide, off-the-face velvet model with peaked crown and trimming of iridescent feather at the center of the crown.

PITTSBURGH-FORDHAM GAME IN POLO GROUNDS CLIMAXES WEEK-END TILTS

57,000 TO SEE MIGHTY SQUADS GO TO BATTLE

Yale Meets Army; Navy and Harvard Tangle in Other Features

CATS TO FACE PURDUE

2 to 1 Odds in Favor of Panthers to Drop

NEW YORK, Oct. 14—(UP)—A capacity crowd of more than 57,000 is expected to jam the Polo grounds Saturday to see Jock Sutherland's Pitt Panthers renew hostilities with Fordham's Rams in football's headline game of the week.

Having battled to scoreless ties in their previous tussles, Pittsburgh and Fordham are hogging the major portion of the nation's grid spotlight on a week-end schedule that includes such worthy games as:

Yale vs. Army, Navy vs. Harvard, Cornell vs. Syracuse, Georgia vs. Holy Cross, Northwestern vs. Purdue, Minnesota vs. Michigan, Indiana vs. Illinois, Alabama vs. Tennessee, Georgia Tech vs. Duke, L. S. U. vs. Mississippi, Arkansas vs. Texas, Vanderbilt vs. S. M. U., Washington vs. Washington State, Southern California vs. Oregon and California's doubleheader against College of Pacific and California Aggies.

Pittsburgh, with its Rose Bowl champion eleven virtually intact and reportedly stronger than the crew which humbled Washington 21-0 last New Year's Day, is the favorite but not the long 2-1 choice quoted by one bookmaker. Most odds are not over 6-5 or 7-5, and may drop to even money by game time.

Only three of Sutherland's 1936 outfit were lost by graduation, and powerful sophomore additions have strengthened rather than weakened the team. Diploma day was harder on "sleepy" Jim Crowley's maroon eleven. Names of six regulars are missing from this year's lineup, three of them being in the heralded "seven blocks of granite" forward line that stopped Pitt.

SCHMIDT TO SEE NORTH WESTERN TEAM IN ACTION

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14—(UP)—If Francis A. Schmidt, the doleful Ohio State grid coach, is fooled by anything that Northwestern throws against the Bucks in their game here Oct. 23, he will have only himself to blame.

Upon his return from Los Angeles where Ohio State received a 13 to 12 setback at the hands of the University of Southern California, Schmidt announced he personally would scout the Wildcats in their game Saturday at Evansville with Purdue.

"I think we should have won the Southern California game," Schmidt said as the team arrived back here late last night from its transcontinental jaunt. "However, that's history now. We have to buckle down and do something about the Big Ten schedule that lies ahead of us."

The Buck coach intends to work the 26 gridgers who took part in the Southern California game lightly for the remainder of the week and then begin keying them again Monday for the Northwestern contest. The heavy work in practice drills today and tomorrow will be borne by reserves who did not see action against the Trojans.

With few exceptions the Buck players were reported in excellent physical condition on their return. The team is expected to be at full strength by the time Northwestern invades Ohio stadium.

A crowd of several thousand students and fans welcomed the losing Scarlet team on its return with a pep rally at Union station.

RED WOODWORTH TAKES REIGNS AT U. OF CINCINNATI

CINCINNATI, Oct. 14—(UP)—The long expected "blow up" in the athletic department at the University of Cincinnati had taken place today with the resignation of Head Football Coach Russ Cohen.

Cohen tendered his resignation, effective immediately, to President Raymond Walters.

In his letter Cohen said: "I feel that the best interests of the team and the University would be served by an immediate change in the coaching situation."

As a supplementary reason for his quitting Cohen gave a recent illness.

He recommended that Wade (Red) Woodworth, former all-American lineman at Northwestern University, be named his successor for the remainder of the campaign.

Immediately upon receipt of Cohen's letter, an emergency meeting of the University Athletic committee was called and Woodworth was designated as head coach.

Cohen came to Cincinnati at the start of the 1935 season from Vanderbilt University, where he had been assistant coach. His tenure here was marked by mediocre teams and constant discord with the athletic department.

WHITE SOX WIN

CHICAGO, Oct. 14—(UP)—The Chicago White Sox and the National League Cubs began to disband for the winter today with the Sox in possession of the city title for the fourth year in a row. Big John Whitehead, who evened the series at two games each last week, scored his second victory yesterday before 12,457 at Wrigley field. Their 6-1 walkaway gave the Sox a 4 to 3 edge in the 1937 series.

RED AND BLACK RESERVE SQUAD WINS, 25 TO 13

Frankfort Varsity Loses In Wednesday Game On Athletic Field

WALTERS SCORES THREE

Jenkins Speeds 65 Yards For Touchdown

Circleville high school reserves, with Coach Jack Landrum using many backfield combinations and none of his varsity linemen, trampled a Frankfort high school varsity, Wednesday afternoon. The Tiger mentor had his boys tossing laterals, running flicker plays, sleepers, trick formations, and almost everything else. The crowd that witnessed the game was pleased with the performance of the underclassmen.

Three of the Red and Black touchdowns were scored by Paul Walters, one on a sleeper pass from Frank Woodward, and two when he was on the receiving end of forward-laterals. One of the forward-laterals was started by Stebelton, who passed to Heffner, who in turn pushed the ball to Walters. The other was started by Woodward with Heffner again as the pivot man.

The fourth Tiger score was made by Marvin Jenkins, freshman halfback, who smashed through center and sped 65 yards through the Frankfort secondary. The invaders presented a well-balanced ball club, one that appeared every bit as strong as the Sunbury team that the Tigers defeated by only one touchdown last Friday.

The most disturbing point about the victory was that Woodward, first string backfield man, suffered an arm injury. Whether it will keep him out of the Mt. Vernon game in the latter city Friday evening is not certain.

RED BIRDS SELL RIZZO, OUTFIELD ACE, TO PIRATES

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14—(UP)—Johnny Rizzo, star outfielder of the pennant-winning Columbus Red Birds of the American Association, today was sold to the Pittsburgh Pirates of the National League.

In return for Rizzo, who hit .358 during the past season, the Pirates gave the St. Louis Cardinals, owners of the Columbus club, two players and an unrevealed cash payment.

The players given up by the Pirates were catcher Tom Padden and a rookie first baseman, Bernie Cobb.

REASONS NOT APPARENT

"COME ON" signals can be given for purposes which are not apparent at the time. A good player who trusts fully in a good partner will heed them whether or not he is in a position to see the reason for them. Perhaps a trick or two later, or maybe not until near the end of the hand, the big idea will become apparent.

Direct heart bidding, of one by South, three by North and four by South, made West the leader on this deal, a job he did not like because the opponents had not smoothed his path by giving any unnecessary information. After pondering his job, he decided to essay a ruffing defense, so laid down the spade ace. When his partner put on the 9 he could not tell the reason for it, but obeyed the apparent request by leading his spade 3.

The declarer, of course, won this and then led a trump. When East was able to capture this with the A and then switch to a third round of spades, the purpose was clear. West's ruff of this trick beat the game, since East's club K was positive to win a trick later.

Chillicothe May Eliminate Paint Street's Dark Spots

CHILLICOTHE, Oct. 14—Police Chief Ben Rout and Walter Schaffer, chairman of council's safety committee, following a tour of inspection, have recommended that two "dark spots" on S. Paint street be removed by installation of proper lights.

The inspection tour followed the traffic death of John S. Dresbach, Chillicothean and native of Pickaway county, Monday night.

The driver of the auto that struck Mr. Dresbach said the victim and a companion seemed to appear "from nowhere" directly in the path of the auto. Similar reports have been made by other car drivers involved in accidents on the street.

Chief Rout and Schaffer discovered the "dark spots" are deceiving to motorists driving south on the street.

IL DUCE SENDS NEW ARMY INTO AFRICAN COLONY

Lord Plymouth Summons Committee to Meet Saturday Morning

The alternative to agreement would be that France and Great Britain, acting together, would resume their own liberty of action and take such steps as they saw fit to counter Italy's activity in behalf of the Spanish Nationalists.

The French government was not expected, during the period of negotiation, to commit itself to any definite action. Realizing the inherent dangers, it was said, the cabinet would prefer to act according to developments.

Today's meeting was a formal council of ministers at the Elysee palace under President Albert Lebrun.

DALHOVER FACES INDIANA TRIAL

Federal agents also sought two women described as Summer long companions of the Brady gangsters at their Bridgeport, Conn., hideout.

Plans for a New England-wide campaign of crime were discovered in the gangster's automobile which had been transformed into a portable arsenal, embracing such features as a sliding rear-window that could serve as a machine-gun porthole.

The data seized included: A street map of Cambridge, Mass., with a cross marking the Central Square Trust company, and a pencilled getaway route which passed the front door of police headquarters.

Floor plans of banks in Bangor and Augusta, capital, which Dalhover admitted he had drawn to guide the gang in projected raids. Highway maps of Bridgeport, Conn., and suburbs, with crosses designating the gang's several hideaways.

Others Connected Dalhover said the Cambridge map was prepared by a Boston underworld figure and that maps of Rhode Island and adjacent Connecticut were drafted by a man identified only as a "Providence gambler."

Dalhover said the gang once lived in Springfield, Mass., but had not operated there. G-men refused to disclose the address of the gang's hideout in that city.

Another Brady gangster left for Indiana early today, but in a baggage car instead of a plane, and in a cheap coffin.

The body was that of the slain Shaffer, whose grandfather had telegraphed instructions to have it sent to his native Indianapolis.

The gang's chieftain in life, Al Brady, in death, was the one member of the trio who appeared forgotten. His unclaimed body still

U. S. NAMES ESPIE TO BUY APPLES IN OHIO DISTRICT

COLUMBUS, Oct. 14—(UP)—

The Federal Surplus Commodity Corporation today announced the appointment of David A. Espie as state purchasing agent, with headquarters in Jackson, O., in the government's program to buy 5,000,000 bushels of lower grade Ohio apples to relieve the anticipated surplus.

The announcement was made by A. J. Patch of the Ohio State university agricultural extension college.

The present crop will total about 11,014,000 bushels, Patch said, or almost twice as large as the normal Ohio crop. The U. S. crop is one-fourth larger than normal.

The purchasing program will begin at once, Patch said. The apples will be bought at market price or possibly higher in some cases, Patch said, and will be distributed to relief clients.

The purchasing program will be under direction of a state committee composed of H. L. Mahple, Painesville, chairman, W. H. Matthews, Salem, W. B. Baughman, New Concord and L. B. Yapple, Chillicothe.

(Continued from Page One) up, said that 100 at least were killed in the dusk bombardment—a total of about 150 for the day excluding the suburbs. It was impossible to estimate the wounded because many were hauled home in rickshaws and hand carts.

It was only because people in the settlement—pedestrians, bus, motor car and street car passengers and crews—fled the streets quickly that the casualties were comparatively low.

Shells struck all over. One in the Szechuan road, another near the Yuenningyuen road, a third in front of the Central post office. A fourth hit the Bubbling Well post office. All were in the heart of the settlement.

ROOSEVELT, JR., AND BRIDE AIM TO BE STUDIOUS

CHARLOTTESVILLE, N. C., — (UP)—

Franklin D. Roosevelt, Jr., has buckled down to learn some law at the University of Virginia, which he chose because it had "an awfully good law school."

The president's 22-year-old son, just returned from a European honeymoon with his 21-year-old bride, the former Ethel du Pont, was advised by doctors to live in a southern climate because of sinus trouble.

So he chose the University of Virginia.

Franklin Jr., and Ethel live in a six-room colonial-type white-stuccoed house on the outskirts of Charlottesville.

They are seeking privacy, and hope to find it here. On one side of the neat bungalow is an overgrown field bordered by woods, on the other a partly completed house. Several other attractive homes are in the neighborhood.

Asked if he had carried his bride across the threshold, Franklin, Jr., replied:

"I'd never heard of that custom. It's a very old one and quaint."

The young Roosevelts have several friends here, and plan to spend three years while he delves into law and she studies domestic economy.
